Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Thanksgiving Day is our heritage, it may be worth while to remember from the time when American colonies were altogether rural, when such manufacturing industries as there were, to all practical purposes were the handicrafts of the cottages—weaving, cobbling, candle making, and the chief business of the fall was the staring away of harvests for winter use. Thanksgiving was and still is in some European counttries, a harvest festival. Today with only a third of the United States population engaged in farming Thanksgiving must be to return thanks for a multitude of blessings, in which the farm has relatively a small share.

To retain the virtues of the original celebrants of Thanksgiving is an ideal we no longer entertain as feasible. To do so would involve a renunciation of all the things that make modern life comfortable and pleasant, and a reversion to simplicity of living akin to barbarism.

But what shall be a national ideal? What new god shall be placed on our high altars in lieu of the hard, cruel Jehovah of the Old Testament? Is there no national ideal save that of two chickens in every pot, two cars in every garage? Have we grown so soft that our chief concern is our belly and all those creature comforts that go with a life of such ease as our Puritan ancestors only envisioned in Heaven?

We may be, as some scholars and scientists maintain, in a great state of flux, surrendering the old and tried, for the new and the untried. Dreaming great dreams as a people passing into a new era, such dreams, perhaps, as our California Argonauts had as they crossed the plains behind their slow plodding oxen, leaving the old East for the new West, conjuring up an Elysium of ease and luxury in a new and far country.

But realists will know that only a very small percentage of those who dreamed realized their dream. Many perished miserably, witness the Donner party. Others led lives of unprecedented hardship. A small proportion of those who crossed the Rockies and the Sierras made their dream come true.

Thus when a whole people, a nation, surges forward in that age-old quest of something better in life, how many actually reach the promised land? In Russia, how many are actually better off than they were under the Czars. In Germany, is the rule of Hitler better than that of the military caste and Kaiser. In Spain, is there anything to choose between Franco and Azana? In poverty-stricken Italy, is life easier under Il Duce than it was before the world war?

The crossing over from the old way of life to a new way, especially if the transition is made hurriedly, is always costly, costly in human life, in human achievement, and least but also important, in material things which are destroyed—roads, bridges, buildings, art collections, that have been centuries in completing.

So, on this Thanksgiving, celebrated yesterday, let us be truly thankful for everything in our national life that puts a brake on haste in the transition which this national is making. Let us be thankful for the United States Supreme Court which halts our Hot Spurs in government. Let us be thankful for the 16 million voters who dissented from the doctrine of a centralized and paternal government. Let us be thankful for every compromise between the real and the ideal in economics and government. For haste makes waste, and haste in government makes the most waste of all.

GRAND JURY TO MEET ON DEC. 7

Judge Raglan Tuttle yesterday set December 7 as the date for the meeting of the Nevada county grand jury. Chester Scheemer is the foreman of the jury. The grand jury meets in December each year and reviews county business as it is conducted by the several county officers.

Chief of Police and Mrs. Robson had as Thanksgiving day guests their daughter, Mrs. Herbert Hansen and Mr. Hansen of Vallejo.

Civic Club Sponsors White Christmas

Plans for the community Christmas tree was the main business of the Nevada City Woman's Civic at its meeting Monday night. The ladies decided to sponsor a community tree as usual this year and committees were appointed to go forward with the plans. The placement of the tree will be decided upon by a committee early next week. Mr. DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of the Tahoe Forest has assured the ladies that the forest service will furnish a beautiful tree and place it for the community. The Pacific Gas and Electric company has offered as heretofore to take care of the lighting of the tree.

The school children will present a Christmas program and a "White Christmas" offering. Each child bringing a white wrapped gift to be sent to some child for whom Santa Claus needs a little special help. These white gifts will be presented at the tree as part of the program. The teachers of the schools will take charge of this part of the program.

The entire community is invited to aid in the donations for the "gift boxes" which will be sent to some of the less fortunate families who will be aided at this Yuletide season. Donations of cash or non-perishable food will be greatly appreciated by the club from those who are anxious to see everyone have happy Christmas. A place will be designated a little later as to where the food donations may be left. Please leave money donations at the Union Office at the Nevada City Nugget or send it to Mrs. George Calanan, chairman of the Christmas Box Committee, to Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, treasurer of the Civic Club, or directly to them to through any club member.

The club decided at Monday's meeting that the children would receive a gift of candy from the club and community.

Committees appointed to take care of the tree were Tree Committee, Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, chairman, Mrs. DeWitt Nelson and Mrs. Charles Elliott.

Gift Box Committee, Mrs. George Calanan, chairman, Mrs. F. F. Cassidy, Miss Winnie Mulloy, Mrs. Belle Douglas, Mrs. W. P. Sawyer, Mrs. Walter Hawkins, Mrs. Beverly Barron and Mrs. William P. Lee; Candy committee, Mrs. Harley M. Leete, chairman, Mrs. James Penrose and Mrs. Raglan Tuttle.

At Monday's meeting Mrs. A. W. Hoge gave a brief report of the library committee and explained the need of having the trees at the library cared for. Fifteen dollars received from the recent "Relic Show" was given to the library committee to carry forward this work.

Following the business meeting the ladies enjoyed a delightful program planned by Mrs. Charles Elliott, program chairman. Mrs. Mabel Matzka of Williams, state chairman of art gave a most pleasing talk on "Art" and interpreted a set of beautiful prints, copies of paintings by American artists, which she brought with her. Mrs. Elliott, by request beautifully sang a group of songs.

Mrs. Kjorlie, club treasurer, gave a financial report of "The Dover Road" showing expenses and receipts. A net gain of nearly $150 dollars was reported. All of this money will be used for various community projects. The expenses of the club itself are met by the monthly dues paid by the members which amounts to $3.00 a year for each one.

Expressions of appreciation were made Monday night for the work of the committee of arrangements for "The Dover Road" and Miss Lois Shaw who so ably trained the cast and for the work of the cast and for the various committees of arrangements within the cast. The club decided to send letters of appreciation to all these persons who so helped.

ALASKA MINE

Twenty five tons of ore per day is being mined at the Alaska mine south of Grass Valley and trucked to the Idaho-Maryland custom mill for reduction. Four men are keeping the Bullion mine, an adjoining property unwatered and in condition until a decision is decided in a suit between the Bullion and Newmont interests.

DOWNIEVILLE FIRE FOUGHT BY 170 CCC BOYS

The fire between the middle fork and north fork of the north fork of the Yuba northeast of Downieville on Wednesday night was fairly well under control according to Forest Service headquarters in this city. Fire fighters numbering 170 from the CCC camps at White Cloud and Bradley fought a gruelling battle with the flames.

The fire started from a miners cabin on the north fork of the north fork. The cabin burned down and spread the fire into the surrounding forest. Tuesday noon the fire was fairly under control at the top of the rigde between the two forks, when the wind veered and increased and sent the flames down the ridge alongside the path it had taken in going up. It is estimated that nearly 300 acres have been burned over.

TRUSTEE APPOINTED FOR HAUBER SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. O. E. McCraney has been appointed by Judge Raglan Tuttle to act as one of the trustees of the Hauber Scholarship Fund. Rector as trustees of a $5000 trust fund the interest of which was to be given to a Nevada City high school student to aid him or her in attending the University of California. Mrs. McCraney was appointed to fill the vacancy of W. M. Gracey who has moved from Nevada City.

It stated they were the "larger American cranberry" viccinium macracarpon. They grow wild and are cultivated on the eastern coast of the United States and Canada. No one has ever heard of these cranberries growing on this coost. The California Academy of Science, Golden Gate Park, has written requesting all available information on the new discovery.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued on Tuesday, November 21 to Byron R. Wellock of Grass Valley and Mrs. Nettie Raferty of Oakdale.

BIG CLOCK ON COURT HOUSE IS SUGGESTED

It has been suggested by one of Nevada City's enterprising business men that it would be a fine idea to place a large town clock, with four faces, on top of the new addition to the court house, that all may see the time, day or night. The new addition looks fine and gives the building a splendid appearance besides much needed room inside.

This man stated he would be willing to give $25 or $20 to start the fund rolling. Many larger cities have these clocks. It is urged that lodges, civic bodies, and individuals get together and subscribe a sum sufficient for a large clock.

CHARTER ADOPTED AT DINNER MEETING THURS.

Mrs. Bond presiding as chairman conducted the meeting of a group of Nevada City women who met at a dinner at the National Hotel on Thursday night, November 19. Twenty five women were present and formed a charter membership of the Nevada City Business and Professional Women. This group adopted a charter and elected officers. Betty Bettles was chosen president of the organization; Madeline Himes, vice president; Mrs. Louise Noyes, secretary and Gertrude Sawyer, as treasurer. Charter membership will be held open for some time so that other Nevada City women who so wish may become charter members. This group has chosen the second and fourth Thursdays of the month as their meeting night.

A short program was enjoyed by the group. Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie gave a brief talk on Modern Trends in Education, Mrs. Ella Austin gave a talk on Vocational Guidance. and Mrs. Violet Rupley, president of the Northern District of Business and Professional Women talked to the group on the aims and objectives of the organization.

OCTOBER GAS TAX $4,148,761

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26.—California gasoline tax assessments for October reached a total of $4,148,761.90, it was announced here today by the State Board of Equalization.

With a seasonal decline in gasoline sales reasonably to be expected during the month of October, it was observed that the tax assessments for the month were only approximately $40,000 less than those of September, a decrease of less than one per cent.

"While the gasoline tax assessments declined only slightly from those of September," the report states. "the October assessments show a decrease of six and one-half per cent from those of the corresponding month of 1935. An analysis of the monthly tax assessments for 1935 and 1936 indicates, however, that it would be entirely incorrect to infer from this decrease that there had been any slump in the improved business conditions which have been reflected in the increased gasoline tax assessments of recent months. Such an inference would be unsound, inasmuch as the assessments for October, 1935, for some unexplained reason were out of line with the assessments for other months, being about $500,000 over those of September and $800,000 over those of November of that year, and, accordingly, tend to render of little or no value a comparison with the assessements for October, 1936."

While on the fire lines fighting the forest fire northeast of Downieville, news was brought to Homer L. Elliott, enrollie in the CCC camp that his mother had died in Missouri. He was immediately excused and by the time he heached this city arrangements were made for his transportation back to his home town to attend the obsequies of his mother.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Wesley D. Taylor celebrated Thanksgiving day with their first born, a son born at the Nevada City Sanitarium. Mrs. Taylor's mother arrived to visit her daughter the day after the youngster was born.

Fires Burn 29,987 Acres This Year In Tahoe Nat. Forest

The Forest Service Fire Board of Review was ended Wednesday noon after an instructive and interesting session, in which charts were shown of the fires and their causes over the past six years.

Supervisor DeWitt Nelson of the Tahoe area, who was host to visiting forest officials, explained that this year has the worst fire record since 1924. The area burned over tthis year totals 29,987 acres. Of this huge territory 24,000 acres was due to the burning of the McKenzie mill near Forest Hill which is the most devastatin fire in many years in Tahae National Forest.

During the year there have been 177 fires Of these 50 were caused by lightning. 45 by careless smokers, 11 by incendiaries, 19 by campers careless wit their camp fires, 9 by burning buildings, 2 by burning autos, 6 by debris burners, one by a broken power line, 19 by railroad operation and 9 miscellaneous, children playing with mattches, etc.

The smokers caused fires burning over 732 acres, campers 10 acres, incendiaries 525 acres, power lines 2,200 acres, burning buildings (McKenzie mill) 24,000 acres, railroads 26 acres, lightning 2,464 acres, debris burners 17 acres.

Regarding the Forest Hill fire which devastated 2400 acres, Supervisor Nelson stated that he believed most of the fire killed lumber will be salvaged and that practically all the area not natutrally seeded to pine, will be seeded The Forest Service has purchased, or is purchasing, between 1500 and 200 pounds of yellow and sugar pine seed, at $1.10 per pound which is being planted by 80 CCC boys from the Bradley camp.

Incendiary fire show a long lead over other kinds of fires in the Camptonville district and special efforts are being made to detect, convict and land these fire bugs in San Quentin.

On the eastern slope of the Sierras careless smoker fires lead others, and these wax and wane with the hunting and campin season.

UNCLE SAM AIDS PEAR GROWERS, DROUGHT AREAS

It is not generally known to what an extent the Federal government gave a lift to the local fruit growers this year, while at the same time giving the benefit to the drought sufferers in the middle west.

The government representatives came into this district at the start of the fruit season and offered the grower one cent a pound net for his U. S. No. 2 fruit, and 42 cents to the packing house for packing, loading and pre-cooling it. This fruit, U. S. No. 2, is below the standard which is normally salable in the eastern markets. Because of heavy frost in this region this spring there was a great quantity of this frost-ringed, misshapen and marked fruit, though not wormy, and perfectly good to eat as far as quality and flavor is concerned. Without the government purchases this fruit would have all gone to waste. As it was, the grower received the cent a pound for it, and the drought sufferers in the middle west had it for nothing, at government expense.

There is one other angle to the deal of considerable interest. The government allowance of 42 cents for packing and loading is a little too close. As a consequence the commercial houses in this district operating solely for profit could not, or would not, handle any of these government orders. They work on a seven per cent commission basis and, since the government was not paying any commission and slightly less than the actual cost of packing and loading, they were not interested. The Colfax Fruit Growers Association, however, operating on a non-profit basis and only for the benefit of the grower members as a whole, could and did handle this fruit under these conditions, and as a consequence the members of the association were able to net $20 per ton for standard cars of fruit in this district alone. This gives a total of about $6000 to about 100 growers. In addition, many poor people in the great drought areas got some really fine pears for nothing—as the government paid the freight.

RANGE MEN TO REPORT BY DEC. 1

The attention of range men is called to the fact that December 1, 1936 is the closing date for receiving range applications for the 1936 Range Conservation program, it is announced by F. E. Gordon, Farm Advisor's office, Marysville, who is in charge of the program in this county.

Mr. Gordon states: "We wish to make it clear that the 1936 range program applies to range improvement practices performed between September 9, 1936 and January 1, 1937. Payment will not be made on partial performance, but if any of these practices are undertaken payment will only be made on completed work as of January 1. 1937.

"Most of the stockmen in this district are interested in the development of springs, digging of wells, or the building of fences. If any stockman are interested in this work, as covered by the 1936 program they are urged to send in application card or get in touch with the farm advisor's office at Marysville before December 1. If they do not plan to build new fences, develop springs, dig wells, or carry on the other practices permitted under the program, there is no advantage in filing an application, but if they do plan to do some of this work between the above mentioned dates, it will probably be to their advantage to contact the farm advisor's office at Marysville, or Leland Smith of the U. S. Forest Service at Nevada City."

Rev. Charles Washburn, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, with a group of five boys motored to the Feather river below Gridley Monday. Ainsley Fouyer and Donald Bosworth of this city were in the party. They had a fine time and brought home a 40 pound salmon.

California Starts State Tarriff Row

Decision of the United States Supreme Court that California's tax of $500 on dealers of beer produced outside the state is legal has aroused critical inspection by other states of some of California's new tax laws.

The constitution of the United States prohibits a tariff on the movement of goods across state lines. Yet it develops California has adopted certain laws that seek to avoid the constitutional prohibition. Other states are beginning to figure on how they can even up the score. Seeking the most vulnerable spot, one or two states are reported to be looking into the question as to whether they can put a tax on California citrus fruits, in order to finance a special inspection service for that fruit.

In the case of the beer tax in Supreme Court found that the Twenty-first Amendment (repeal) lifted the interdict against state interference with inter-state commerce so far as intoxicating beverages are concerned. This amendment, it will be recalled, prohibits the transportation or importation of such beverages into any state "in violation of the laws thereof."

But California is also experimenting with a "Use Tax". This tax was supposed to plug the leaks that developed with the Sales Tax, but apparently it goes much further than plugging the leaks. It is imposing taxes on imports from other states and some of the other states do not appreciate the California viewpoint.

Evidently the framers of the constitution knew what they were doing when they provided for a prohibition against state tariff. Here we find California pulling what some other states figure is a "fast one" in connection with the beer tax. The squabble that followed produced inspection of our so-called "Use Tax" that also amounts to a tariff on goods imported from other states. We would not be surprised if there are reprisals in other states that may make California regret that it ever attempted the experiment in finding ways to tax products that move across the state line.

An inspection tax to finance an army of inspectors hired to examine California fruits and vegetables offered for sale in other states would actually make our hair stand on end.—San Bernardino Sun.

EUROPEAN BALLET IN SACRAMENTO DEC. 2

Wide-spread interest in the Jooss European Ballet, which will dance in Memorial auditorium, December 2, as the second attraction of the Sacramento Music Series, is evidenced in current literature concerning the ballet.

Chief of these is the book by that well known author—Arnold Haskell whose book "Balletomania" was a best seller of two seasons ago. The new work "Prelude to the Ballet," dealing with the ballet today, is enthusiastic in its discussion of Kurt Jooss, and his company.

Published in the October 26 issue of Time magazins is a lengthy account of the Jooss ballet. Another story of this company's triumphs is printed in the current issue of "Musical America."

In its Sacramento performance, the Jooss ballet will present the famous "Green Table" with which it won first prize in the International Congress of the Dance in Paris, in 1932. Other ballets will include "The Big City," and "In Old Vienna." Management of the Sacramento Music Series is by Ware & Hazelton, assisted by Henry J. McFarland, Jr.

STATE FED. OF LABOR WRITES NEW TAX BILL

(By CLEM WHITAKER)

Unsuccessful in its fight to repeal the state sales tax at the recent general election, the California State Federation of Labor will reopen its battle against the sales levy at the forthcoming session of the state legislature with one of the most revolutionary tax programs in the state's history.

Scheduled to raise approximately $100,000,000 annually, the labor tax program would establish 12 new tax levies, tapping new revenue sources.

In addition, it would sharply increase rates of seven of the state's present tax and license statutes.

The state sales tax, yielding $70,000,000 annually, would be repealed.

Similar in some of its exemption features to the "Single Tax"-Sales Tax Repeal Act, which was barred from the November ballot by action of the State Supreme Courtfi the new Labor program makes a bid for popular support by granting a constitutional exemption of $1,000 on every homestead, urban or rural, and by increasing the personal property tax exemption from $100 to $500.

As a further bid for public approval, the program provides that additional liquor revenues — some $12,000,000 annually — would be "ear marked" for payment of the counties' share of old-age pensions.

After boosting rates of present revenue measures, here are the new taxes, which the labor program would impose:

1. 1 per cent real estate transfer tax; estimated revenue of $5,000,000.
2. Mortgage recording fee, 1-4 of 1 per cent of the amount of the loan; $3,000,000.
3. Tax an bank checks (2 cents per check); $2,500,000.
4. Stock Issue Tax (5 cents per share on original issue); $2,000,000.
5. Stock Transfer tax (2 cents per share) $2,000,000.
6. Severance tax, gold excepted, 3 per cent on gross value of minerals, oil, natural gas, all lumber products and fish; $7,000,000.
7. Gross receipts tax of 2 per cent on communication (telephone and telegraph), transportation (railroads, etc.) and power; $12,000,000.
8. Corporation income tax (2 per cent flat on net income); $10,000,000.
9. Intangibles tax of 4 mills; $2,000,000.
10. Vessels tonnage tax; $3,000,000.
11. State and municipal bond interest to be made taxable in income schedules; $4,000,000.
12. Excise taxes on furs, jewelry, wearing apparel, cosmetics and sporting goods; revenue not estimated.

In upping present taxes, the labor plan would establish a rate of one-third the federal rate on both normal and surtax for state income tax purposes (estimated to produce $8,000,000 additional); jump the insurance premium tax from 2.6 per cent to 4 per cent (estimated additional revenue $3,000,000); double inheritance taxes ($11,000,000 new revenues); increase distilled spirits tax from 80 cents to $1 per proof gallon ($3,000,000); increase beer excise tax from 2 to 3 cents ($3,000,000); increase liquor license fees to New York schedule ($6,000,000); increase gas tax one cent ($15,000,000).

This program the State Federation of Labor plans to submit to the legislature by initiative petitions carrying the signature of 5 per cent of the voters. If the legislature turns thumbs down on the revolutionary plan, it then automatically goes to the voters at the next election; if the legislature approves, it is subject to referendum.

The new program, it is estimated would return $70,500,000 to the state and some $27,000,000 to the counties. All in all, it looks like a hard winter at Sacramento!

NIGHT PROWLER ANNOYS GLENBROOK RESIDENTS

Residents of Glenbrook Park district near Olympia have been bothered with a night prowler on two different occasions recently. He has been seen running off porches and several women were thoroughly frightened the latter part of last week. There are a group of sixteen homes on the Legg tract and Mr. George Legg is building three more. It is almost like a little town in itself among a grove of beautiful pines. The little community is alarmed over the night prowler and is preparing to protect itself.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Morrison of Arbuckle came up last week and visited with Mrs. Morrison's mother, Mrs. R. Carter, and brothers until Sunday.

Song Of The Yuba

I heard the Yuba singing
A wild, exultant song;
Said I, "You're simply wasting time,
Come, on now, roll along."
"Oh, don't purvey that brand of gloom,"
The Yuba made reply;
"I'm going to have a man made lake
To loll in by and by;
For this is what's been planned—
Specifically planned;
A mighty high and fine dam,
A big hydraulic mine dam,
Across the famous Narrows will be spanned;

Before I'm four years older
My dam may rival Boulder;
And these hills will yield their gold
As they did in days of old—
I'm the happiest little river in the land.

I'm going to have a dam—
You see, I'm in cahoots with Uncle Sam!"

THE BAY BRIDGE DISCOUNTED

Now Miss Los Angeles stood there
As I came strolling by;
"You'll never have a bridge like that,"
I said to her, said I;
"Oh, don't you be too sure of that,"
She said to me, said she,
"Just stick around for four long years
And see what you will see;
For this is what I've planned—
Specifically planned;
A mighty high and long bridge,
A twelve lane, super strong bridge,
From Catalina Island to the mainland!"

—A. MIRRIAM CONNER.

Capital Business

Compiled by Sacramento Chamber of Commerce

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26.—Preparation of plans and specifications are being speeded in anticipation of an early start on the $170,000,000 Central Valleys Water project, the United States Reclamation Bureau has announced.

It was indicated here today probably the first bids to be advertised will be for a four to six-mile section of the Contra Costa conduit, which will provide fresh water for the industrial section below the Sacramento delta.

Legal complications concerning the securing of water rights and other matters have been holding up construction. The bureau's engineers have completed plans and specifications for earthwork, lining and structures for 28,669 feet of the Friant-Kern canal, and 25 duplex cottages, an office building, dormitories and residences for the government camp at the Friant dam site.

Walker R. Young, construction engineer, is in Spokane, Wash., attending the convention of the National Reclamation association.

County governmental problems will be discussed by representatives of all counties belonging to Alta California, Inc., when they meet in Sacramento December 5 on call of President C. E. Steingul, who is the chairman of the San Joaquin county board of supervisors. Speakers will include Alfred Elliott, state supervisors representative on the state safety committee, and Supervisor W. T. Ellis of Yuba county, Roscoe L. Patterson of Tulare county, J. P. Branley of Plumas county, E. H. Hodge of Tuolumne county, and H. L. Murch of Glenn county. New officers will be elected.

California may go into the oil business unless satisfactory solution of tideland oil drilling problems can be reached. Governor Frank F. Merriam revealed he plans to recommend to the legislature that the legislature give the state finance director authority to lease property for tideland oil drilling by private companies under conditions entirely favorable to the state, or, that the state go directly into the oil drilling business and condemn rights of way where necessary to reach the California-owned tideland oil pools with slant wells. If the latter program were followed, Governor Merriam figures the state could finance its unemployment relief and pay off the deficit as well from the proceeds.

The Sacramento Junior college is offering a mining course unique among the state's educational institutions, Waldemar Dietrich, head of the mining department of the college said today. He said that as planned by the junior college, courses in practical mining subjects are given in the first two years of college, instead of waiting until the last two years. In this way, he said the student is trained to become a useful artesan in the mine two years earlier.

Plans for a banquet in Sacramento December 10 are being made by members of Donner Trail association under direction of L. H. Reynolds, Auburn, general chairman.

AROUND THE DOME — Capitol observers reported a measure to repeal the present state marriage law, which requires a three day public notice before a license can be issued, may be proposed at the coming legislature. Ray Ingels, director of the motor vehicle department, blamed carelessness of pedestrians for 3,324 of the 9,947 pedestrian accidents in California last year. A special assembly committee, investigating operations of automobile financing, plans a series of hearings in Sacramento.

California's farmers will have 11 dimes in their jeans at the end of this year, where last year they had 10, accordin to Ralph H. Taylor, exceptive secretary of the Aricultural Council of California. He predicted the farm income for 1936 will top 1936 revenues by 10 per cent. During the last 60 days, California farm products have brought the highest retturns for tthis season of the year during the recovery era, he said.

Plans for Sacramento's annual Winter Sports Carnival and Queen Contest, to be held in Memorial auditorium on January 9, were made Tuesday by the Winter Sports committee of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce. A colorful entertainment program, featured by selection of a snow queen from among the entries to be made by Northern Californit ski clubs, is being prepared. Already the Mount Shasta Snowmen, Lake Tahoe Ski club and Auburn Ski clug have announced they plan to enter queen contestants.

LOOKING OVER SACRAMENTO —Fourteen hundred school teachers from Sacramento, Yolo, Sutter and El Dorado counties attended the three day institute here. Over protests of operators, the city council boosted license fees on pin and marble games and "claw" machines to as high as $72 a year. Sale of the northwest corner of Ninth and L streets to Wright and Kimbrough realty firm for $82,500 was confirmed in superior court Tuesday on petition of the California Trust and avings bank, in liquidation Superior Judge Dal M Lemmon upheld the constitutionality of the state fair trades practice act, granting an inpunction against selling "leaders" below cost.

Sacramento Junior college and San Mateo Junior college meet on the gridorin Thursday in their annual Thanksgiving day football contest in Sacramento stadium San Mateo is rated a heavy favorite.

SEVEN MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED TO CHRISTMAS CLUB

Announcement is made today by Bank of America that the distribution from the 1936 Christmas Club would amount to more than $7,000,000 and represents the Christmas Club savings of 138,000 Christmas Club depositors with the Bank of America.

Statistics show that about 70 per cent of the money saved on Christmas Clubs is used in the purchase of merchandise, and that each year a tremendous stimulation in business is noted by the merchants immediately after the Christmas Club distribution.

The Bank of America Club is the largest Christmas Club in the United States, and as a sign of returning prosperity it should be noted that the combined savings of this club have been increasing at the rate of more than $1,000,000 a year since the low point of the depression.

A Bright-Eyed Gentleman Who Says Little But Sees All

There's romance akin to the doings of the G-Man in the keenly observant, unobtrusive Inspector of the Railroads. His visits are un-announced; he sweeps in like an unexpected bird and is as unexpectedly gone to some new field. He's the man of a thousand duties—who knows railroads and railroad trains from A to Z.

Railroad equipment and rolling stock must come up to iron clad standards. There can be no laxity, nothing slip shod. The Inspector's job is to safeguard life and cargo shipments.

That is one reason why Railroad transportation offers the finest degree of safety, prompt adherence to schedules and assured deliverance of freight consignments. The rules and regulations are strict, so strict that shippers realize that their goods receive the maximum in considerate treatment and care. The conscientious shipper has found that it pays, both in economy and peace of mind, to use the rails instead of unregulated highway carriers, wherein inspection is unheard of and safety of goods, schedules of time and satisfaction of service are as dubious as the roll of dice.

And while railroads operate on a basis of equipment maintained to the highest degree of perfection and cheerfully expend every dollar needed for this purpose, the rates of freighting are kept at lowest possible level at all times.
